World Mission Sunday $ 2,872

I read of a church where when the pastor announces it is time for the collection, the people applaud and cheer. Why? One simple reason: because God loves a cheerful giver, and more and more people in that church are learning to give with gratitude, from the heart (2 Corinthians 9:7). The word sacrifice has at its root, sacre, which means “holy”. Our sacrificial offering is intended to be a holy gift to God, an action of trust and gratitude for all God’s blessings. Thank you to all who sacrifice for the sake of this parish and her mission to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

PASTORS COLUMN

Last Sunday a historic moment took place in the life of the Church. For the first time in our history a married couple were canonized at the same time. Saints Louis and Zeile Martin were recognized to have led an exemplary Christian life and Pope Francis in the name of the Church recognized their sanctity. The canonization took place during the Synod of the Family in Rome which concluded its gathering this week. In his homily at the Mass of Canonization Pope Francis spoke the following words about this couple: “ The holy spouses Louis Martin and Marie-Azélie Guérin practised Christian service in the family, creating day by day an environment of faith and love which nurtured the vocations of their daughters, among whom was Saint Therese of the Child Jesus. The radiant witness of these new saints inspires us to persevere in joyful service to our brothers and sisters, trusting in the help of God and the maternal protection of Mary. From heaven may they now watch over us and sustain us by their powerful intercession.”

Sts. Louis and Zeile are the parents of St. Therese of Lisieux yet this is not why they were canonized. Their own heroic actions and love amid the trials and challenges of life and their ability to stay faithful to God. Married in 1858, Louis and Zélie had nine children. Four died in infancy while the remaining five entered religious life. During their marriage, the couple was known to attend Mass daily, pray and fast, visit the elderly and the sick and welcome the poor into their home. In reading the letters of Zeile it is easy to see that she was a woman of strong faith, despite having a very difficult childhood, and suffering the death of 4 of her children. She never lost sight of the fact that God was present to her in such trials. She, like many mothers who lose children, knew that she had a husband and other children to care for and even though she knew the great pain of loss she was able to continue in her devotion and care of her family through God's grace. Louis was different in the sense that he was a gentle and tender man yet had a strong protective love of his wife and children. It is said that he was a man of few words who put into action his strong love for his family. He was a man of great prayer who doted on his children and even after the loss of his wife and 4 children he was not known to give himself over to despair but had great trust in God. The faith of their parents caused the 5 remaining children—Marie, Pauline, Leonie, Celine and Therese—to give themselves freely to God's invitation to serve Him in religious life. Even though they had a comfortable upbringing the children were not spoiled and adapted well to the hardships of religious life at that time in history. St. Therese herself had a deep desire to join her sisters in religious life even to the point of petitioning the Pope as she was below the age required for entry into the Carmelite. The Martin's created a family environment where their children sensed and experienced God's presence in everything irrespective of what they experienced whether great joy or profound sadness.

How appropriate as the delegates at the Synod on the Family were pondering the challenges of the modern family that this couple should be held up as a model of faith, prayerful hope and trust in God despite the challenges and disappointments that they may have experienced on the journey of their lives. May they serve as intercessors to all couples who see to be faithful to their vocation in marriage and parenting. This is a prayer for their intercession for families and married couples:

Saints Louis and Zélie, we turn to you in prayer for our families. By fulfilling the duties of your state in life and practicing the evangelical virtues as spouses and as parents, you have modeled for us an exemplary Christian life. May the example of your unwavering trust in God and your constant willingness to surrender all the joys, the trials, the sorrows and the sufferings that filled your life encourage us to persevere in our daily challenges and to remain in joy and Christian hope. Saints Louis and Zélie, pray for us. Amen.

Peace, Fr. Richard

OCEAN OF MERCY /HEALING AFTER ABORTION

The Sisters of Life believe that God has a unique and beautiful plan of healing for each woman who contacts them. Many who are suffering alone experience great peace and healing as they are able share their burdens with another. The Sisters are available to meet with women individually in person or over the phone as they walk through the journey of healing. Accompaniment may be a single phone call or ongoing meetings and conversations

The Sisters host monthly Days of Prayer and Healing, monthly Gatherings, and Hope and Healing Weekend Retreats. These events are opportunities to experience the loving mercy of God in a safe and sacred space. All retreats are led by the Sisters of Life and women who have experienced both the suffering of abortion and the joy of healing in Christ. The retreats are directed by faithful priests who have a sensitivity and a heart for those who suffer. They include witnesses of mercy, Scripture sharing, personal prayer, opportunity for Sacramental Confession, and the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

NEXT SUNDAY MASS READINGS

ALL SAINTS

First Reading: Revelations 7:2-4, 9-14

John recounts for us the details of his vision. An angel bearing the seal of the living God demands that the land and sea not be destroyed; huge crowds stand before the throne of the Lamb crying out that salvation comes from God; angels gathered round and praised God; an elder questions John and explains that those dressed in white are the ones who have survived the great period of trial.

Second Reading: 1 John 3:1-3

Once again John speaks to us of love. He points out to us the great love that the Father has for us by allowing us to be called children of God. John explains that the world doesn't recognize us because it never recognized Jesus. Our future will be revealed to us and in that light we shall see him as he is.

Gospel: Matthew 5:1-12a

When Jesus saw the crowds of people he went up to the mountainside gathered his disciples around him and began to teach them. This lesson in love has come to be known to us as the great "Sermon on the Mount" or "The Beatitudes."

Blessed are you!

SCHOOL NEWS

STEAM-Design Challenge Activity!

As a STEM school, our students from Pre K through 8th grade learn concepts in science class and then apply their knowledge in performance assessments that require problem solving skills. This has led to the development of critical thinkers in the areas of science and math as children get a greater understanding of how subject matter is connected. Our standardized test scores have also increased across the board in the areas of science and math since adopting the STEM program. A new push to include “Arts” in the Science Technology Engineering Math program has produced a bevy of creative project ideas.

Our middle school students at St. Vincent de Paul School recently had the opportunity to put their engineering skills to the test. Design teams were required to develop a functional pinball machine using recycled materials. These simple machines had working parts and reinforced the concepts of potential and kinetic energy, as well as that of levers, sound and motion. Each team chose a unique theme for their machine. Ideas included sports, social media, oceanography and movies. This fun-filled activity was an enjoyable learning experience for all and even included presenting these machines to lower school students!
